Leaves Cincinnati For Hot
Springs --- Boat
Shot at

[By Telegraph to The Age]
Cincinnati, O., July 30.—Judge Taft held an important conference with his chief of staff, Arthur I. Vorys, just previous to his departure for Hot Springs, the subjects discussed being minor matters in connection with the situation in the Duckeye State. He also saw State Chairman Williams and Elmer Dover, secretary of the national committee. He was made a member of the International Brotherhood of Steam Shovel and Dredgemen, and later went in an automobile to the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Herron, where Mrs. Taft spent the entire day. Mr. Taft said he felt no ill effects of his speechmaking exertions, but will go back to the mountains with some relief for a month of comparative quiet and golf.

In accepting membership in the shovelers' organization Mr. Taft had this to say regarding labor: "I am very glad to have at your hands this expression of confidence in my efforts to do justice while I was in office. As to the work upon which many of your members and I were engaged in one capacity and another, endeavoring to facilitate the greatest constructive work of modern times, adds a great deal of interest to me in the commitment you pay me. I am especially gratified because you evince a liberal and impartial view in this tendering me this compliment, because in the administration of work on the isthmus I did not always decide in favor of your contentions. But when I decided contrary to the claim which was made by you, I tried to give reasons which, I think, by your action, were convincing of my desire to reach a just conclusion."

"President McKinley had the honor to be an honorary member of the bricklayers union, President Roosevelt has the honor to be an honorary member of the firemen's union. With such examples as that, and with the precedents in my own life in becoming an honorary member of a number of useful organizations, I can not see the slightest objection to my accepting this compliment at your hands, which I appreciate highly, and which I shall always cherish as one of the evidences that there are some men whom I have convinced, through my official work, of my desire to do the square thing for everybody."

It became known publicly that the steamer Island Queen, which conveyed Judge Taft and a distinguished party, including the notification committee, up the Ohio river, was fired upon by an unknown man on a shantyboat moored on the Ohio side of the river opposite Dayton, Ky. Several shots from the spent charge hit out did not seriously injure Mrs. Charles B. Russell of this city, who was standing with her husband near the rail on the deck, directly below where Mr. Taft was at the time standing. An investigation of the affair is being made by the steamboat company.

Walhonding Valley Folks Want to go to Buckeye Lake

WARM ONE HAND TO BRYAN NOW

[By Telegraph to The Age]
Omaha, Neb., July 30.—An open letter to William J. Bryan asking him to disapprove of the attempt that was made recently to file the names of Democratic presidential electors under the head of "People's Independents," has been published by Victor Rosewater, Republican national committeeman from Nebraska. Mr. Rosewater recently filed a protest in the case with the secretary of state. This matter is an outcome of the bolt of the Nebraska delegation, headed by Thomas H. Tibbles, from the St. Louis convention of the People's party, which nominated Thomas E. Watson for president.

Mr. Rosewater first refers to Mr. Bryan's speech last February before the Civic Forum in New York, whose subject was "Thou shalt not steal," and in which Mr. Bryan divided theft into "larceny and violation of law" and "larceny through operation of law." Says he:

"I ask you, Mr. Bryan, if the larceny of something more precious than property, namely the unpurchasable votes of the people, is not equally reprehensible whether the theft is committed in violation of law or under cover of legal technicalities."

"Let me call your attention to the fact, if you are not already aware of it, that a conspiracy is now on foot in this, your own state of Nebraska, engineered by your brother-in-law as chairman of your Democratic state committee, for the purpose of purloining votes not intended to be cast for you and to count them for your candidacy. In the interest of square dealing I have filed protests with the secretary of state against the misbranding of Democratic presidential electors. The filing of the names of Democratic electors as 'People's Independents' is a palpable attempt to secure votes for you by false pretenses. If this plot succeeds you will have the benefit of the votes intended to be cast for Thomas E. Watson as well as of the votes intended to be cast for you. If this would not be larceny of these votes 'through operation of law,' I would like to know what you would call it."

"Discussing the objections to instructing convention delegates you said in your Commoner last January that 'dishonesty is no better in politics than it is in business,' and you riddled the objections raised to instructions merely stating them. One of those objections to instructions, you said, was 'that they make it impossible for the delegates to betray those who elected them.' A presidential elector occupies a position very much like that of a delegate to a convention. He is a trustee into whose custody is given the sovereignty of the people who have voted for him. If your Democratic electors should be nominated and elected in Nebraska as Democrats and also as People's Independents, which trust will they betray? Will they betray your friends and vote for Watson or will they betray Watson's friends and vote for you?"

Mr. Rosewater closes with an appeal to Mr. Bryan to put the stamp of his disapproval upon the proposed action.

Has No Time to Reply.
Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 30.—When informed of the open letter of Victor Rosewater, proprietor of the Omaha Bee, and Republican national committeeman from Nebraska, in which the allegation is made that a conspiracy engineered by Mr. Bryan's brother-in-law is on foot "for the purpose of purloining votes in Nebraska not intended to be cast for you," Mr. Bryan said: "I have not time to make answer." He was not certain that he would reply at all, but said the subject would be investigated.

GIRL GONE AND MONEY OF MOTHER'S IS MISSING

Ethel Fisher, the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Fisher, departed from her home on North Sixth street, the third house south of Oak Ridge cemetery, Wednesday evening and purchased a ticket at the Pennsylvania ticket office for East St. Louis.

A twenty-dollar bill which her mother had saved by working at the enamel plant, several of Ethel's dresses and a dress suit case belonging to her older sister, also disappeared with the young girl.

Before leaving on No. 25 which is due here about a half-hour after midnight, Ethel was seen talking on the station platform to Ed Tyler, who is said to be her lover, and the supposition arose at once, when this fact became known today, that the couple had eloped.

Ethel has an aunt at Greenfield, Ill., with whom she visited last fall, and it is supposed that she expects to return there. Mrs. Fisher had Squire Staats write a letter to the girl's aunt hoping that Ethel may be sent back home. Over half of the $20 was spent for the railroad ticket and it is not likely that any of the money will be left by the time the girl is caught.

Simon Fisher, the father of the girl, is helpless and his hand shakes so that he cannot even drink a glass of water without assistance. Besides Ethel there is one older girl who works in the kitchen at the Park hotel and one sister who is married. The mother works at the enamel plant. She had saved $20 and had it hidden in the house.

Wednesday night about 10 o'clock Ethel came downstairs into her mother's room and was talking with her mother, who thought nothing of it. She probably got the $20 then and returned upstairs. Her mother did not hear her leave the house but the next morning the girl and money were both gone.

Ethel was 12 years old last April.

New Hospital is Almost in Tangible Form Today

Things are assuming tangible form for Coshocton's new hospital which has been rumored for some time. The physicians who are behind the excellent movement have secured an option on one of the most desirable residence properties in the city centrally and splendidly located. They expect to have an architect who is a noted builder of hospitals, come here this week and go over the residence and figure on the cost of remodeling it and making it into a modern and complete hospital building.

The gentlemen state they are not yet ready to make public any plans but that as soon as they get the architects' figures they will decide definitely what they will do. It is likely that a stock company will be organized. There would be little difficulty in disposing of stock in such an institution, which is one of the most needed necessities of Greater Coshocton.

A wire fencing has been erected around the auditorium for convenience of ticket-takers.

Every possible arrangement is being made for the convenience and comfort of the patrons.

The program for the whole of Chautauqua is printed in the big ad in this issue. Read it carefully.

Thursday morning some handsome post cards were printed for Miss Gaver, which she will use as souvenirs for the members of her Indian tribe. The cards has the splendid portrait of Miss Gaver that was recently printed in The Age, and on the reverse side a picture of the tents at Chautauqua. It was intended to have separate postal cards on sale each day at the grounds with the pictures of the stars of that day, but the concessionaire would not handle them and the proposition fell through. It would have made a fine souvenir.

Mrs. Wood claims that four years ago he knocked her down and a physician had to attend her. She says he called her vile names and for six years has failed to properly provide for her. W. S. Merrell is her attorney.

Alleged Murderer Tries Suicide.
Batavia, O., July 30.—John Hill, who was brought back last week from Oklahoma to answer to the charge of killing Washington Goode, an aged wealthy reclusive, made three attempts to commit suicide in jail here. He scraped the quicksilver on a looking glass in his cell, but an antidote was administered as soon as the jailer realized what had been done. Later he ate the sulphur of a handful of matches. Then, to make sure of the job, he hanged himself with his belt and had become unconscious when he was cut down.

Notice

Notices of church, Sunday school, lodge, and all other lawn fetes, festivals, entertainments, etc., where money is charged for service or admission, come under advertising rates in The Age and must be paid for, cash with copy. Locals run six words per line on an average, and the charge is five cents per line per insertion. For instance, five lines would cost 25 cents for one insertion or 50 cents if run two days. These bills cannot be charged, because of the smallness of the amounts and the time necessary for a collector to call. When advertised, The Age will also be glad to make free advance mention of any such events, in its society columns.

SUFFERED FROM A SUNSTROKE

Capt. E. Z. Hays was in a critical condition at his home in Warsaw, Wednesday evening as the result of a sunstroke with which he was overcome while in Coshoc-ton Wednesday afternoon. He had been transacting business in connection with the Heck estate and was sitting in front of the Park hotel when he began to feel ill. He managed to get to the depot and took the Watling train for home but could scarcely remember how he got on or off the train. He became partially paralyzed and could not talk and his fever went up to 104 F. Dr. W. L. Whit, of Warsaw, and Capt. Hays' step daughter Miss Nora Darling who had just returned from nursing Geo. M. Owing to his alarming condition Wednesday evening, Dr. Honabarger came down to Coshoc-ton in his auto and took Capt. Hays' son, Stewart B. Hays, up to Warsaw.

The Man of the Hour

By Albert Payson Terhune

When the broker had recovered himself sufficiently to start from the room Dallas Wainwright stood before him, barring the exit. Her face was dead white, her big dark eyes ablaze.

"Wait!" she commanded. "I must speak to you for the last time."

"Dallas!" gasped the desperate man, his drawn face turning positively yellow. "You were—you heard?"

"Mr. Bennett just now called you 'the foulest cur in all the world,'" said Dallas, her voice scarcely louder than a whisper, yet every syllable stinging as a whiplash. "He put it too mildly."

"But, sweetheart!"

"Miss Wainwright, please. I heard you offer to sell me to him in exchange for his conscience. If my own brother had told me such a thing I would not have believed him, but I myself heard it. And I heard his splendid answer!"

"But you know, I was joking! That it was just a trick to!"

"Just such a trick that made me promise to be your wife? Yes, but this time you had to do with a man—a man in a million—not with a poor, credulous little idiot like me. And he answered you as I should have answered you had my eyes been opened in time. I!"

"Dallas," groaned Gibbs, "for heaven's sake don't look at me like that! I can't bear it! I love you! And I!"

"And I in my criminal folly promised to marry you!" she stormed. "I let you kiss me. My lips are degraded forever by that touch of yours. I let you speak words of love to me. I broke a brave man's heart for your worthless sake. Oh, the shame—the horrible shame of it all! But I shall thank God on my bended knees that I have found out the truth before that was too late."

"Too late?" he echoed in horror, his voice rising almost to a scream. "Dallas, you're not going to throw me over? You aren't?"

"Scott Gibbs," she answered quietly, a world of wondering scorn in her level tones, "you do not even know how vile a thing you are. Now leave me, please. Your presence sickens me."

He tried to speak, but something of the ineffable contempt in her steady eyes silenced him.

Without a word he slunk out of the room and out of her life.

Phelan, agog with eagerness for the coming struggle in the aldermanic chamber, hustled past through the corridor. The alderman had many duties today, and as the performance of each brought him nearer to his longed for revenge on Horrigan he was positively beaming with righteous bliss. Dallas caught sight of him.

"Alderman!" she called faintly.

Phelan halted, still in haste to fulfill his mission.

"Could—could I see Mr. Bennett?" she asked, a new timidity transforming her rich voice. "Do you know where I can find him?"

"Is it important? He's pretty busy."

"Very important!" she pleaded. "I must see him at once."

"I'll look him up," agreed Phelan, "but I warn you he's too busy to see you just yet. S'pose you let me take you back to the meeting? Our bill's couln' up in a few minutes now, an' you don't want to miss it. Then I'll scare up his honor for you as soon as he's got a spare minute an' bring you back here to him. Sorry to keep you waitin'," he went on as they started toward the council chamber, "but before this session's over all sorts of things is due to explode, an' we ain't hardly at the beginnin' of the excitement yet. We're goin' to make a Fourth of July celebration in a giant powder factory look like a deaf mute run'al by the time we're done."

CHAPTER XVII.

"HES in there!" observed Phelan in high excitement, jerking his thumb toward a door leading off the committee room, "an' I've sent for Wainwright an' Horrigan to meet your honor here. An' I've fixed it so the Borough bill won't come up for ten minutes. Now, all that's left is to touch the punk to the fuse an' set off the whole giddy bunch of fireworks under 'em. Gee, but it's good to 'a' stuck to this old world just for the sake of bein' here today an' seein' what I'm due to see!"

The alderman chuckled, but his joyous anticipation found no reflection in Bennett's white set face. The two were in the committee room, whither Phelan had repaired after depositing Dal-

Have You Ever Stopped to Think About Your Health?

Are you as well, strong and vigorous as you used to be? Are you sometimes discouraged and think you'll never be any better? Can you tell the cause of your trouble, or what makes you sick? Do you know that about nineteen-tenths of the sickness is caused by kidney trouble? Have you ever stopped to think that your kidneys may be the cause of your poor health? Most people do not realize how much work the kidneys are required to do every day. Every drop of blood in the body must pass through and be filtered by the kidneys thousands of times each day. How can they do their work well if they are sick? If your kidneys need treatment, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root will prove to be just the medicine you need. If you will write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., every reader of this paper, who has not already tried Swamp Root, the great Kidney and Bladder Remedy, may receive a sample bottle by mail, absolutely free.

Mrs. Thomas Gorman of 820 Orange street, Coshocton, Ohio, says: "I am only too glad to tell what a fine remedy Doan's Kidney Pills have been in our family. We have all used them at one time or another with excellent results. My husband was taken with an acute attack of kidney disease which confined him to the bed. There were terrible pains in his back and a disorder of the kidney secretions which caused him much misery. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills he has found great relief and it will be only a short time before he is completely cured."

Ostermoor Mattress $15.

Is better than all others for these very pertinent reasons:

Most Comfortable bed ever slept on—soft, yielding, but springy and resilient—never packs or gets lumpy, or loses its feeling of newness. That is because it is made of Ostermoor sheets; built, not stuffed. We have scores of letters from doctors and competent judges who declare it the only

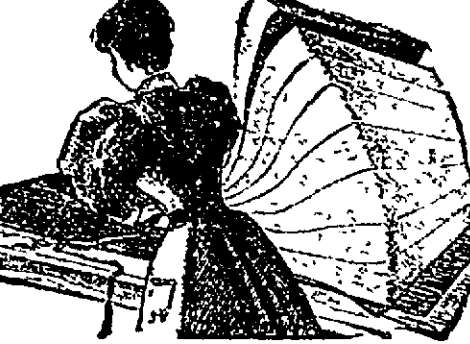

Absolutely Sanitary mattress because dust cannot work into it; no vermin can harbor in it; a sun-bath is all the renovating it ever needs; it will not absorb dampness, disease germs, or any poison from perspiration or the atmosphere. It is always

Perfectly Dry because non-absorbent. If the ticking is dry, the mattress is dry. No taking cold from it, no unpleasant or musty odor about it; always fresh and sweet. Testimonials in our free book bear witness for those who have used it for thirty years or more and who do not hesitate to say that it

Lasts a Life-time and stays in perfect condition. It never needs replacing or renovating. You may remove and clean the ticks as often as you like.

No other mattress in the world, of any material, at any price, from any maker or through any dealers, can truthfully make and prove all these claims as can the Ostermoor. Do not take our word for it—our word is good—but if you will the proof is there, from U. S. Government tests and reports, letters from prominent men and women and the testimony of schools, hotels, hospitals and steamships where extraordinary service is required.

The book is handsome as well as convincing; contains over 200 illustrations—about beds of all ages; about sleep and its lack (insomnia); about mattress hair—some things will be surprising and you will wish you had known them long ago.

Of course, it also explains the merits and styles of Ostermoor Mattresses, Church cushions, etc. This book costs you a post card; don't you wish a copy? With it we send free samples of ticking for your selection.

ROOSEVELT TO A BRIDE

Talk about Roosevelt policies—there is not a glimmer in them when compared with the idea he expressed to Miss Pauline Kohlsaat upon the eve of her marriage to Potter Palmer, Jr. To her he wrote: "There are no lovers like wedded lovers." That beats the square deal, the anti-unionism, the four battleships, and the opinion of the circuit court, all combined, several blocks, as the boys say.

But the funny thing about it is, that it should be proclaimed, reiterated and praised as if it was something new; as if it was one of Roosevelt's strange theories, with which he intended to bathe the eyes of the world. But, this is because no married man thinks it applies to anybody but himself. There is neighbor Jenkins down the street—of course, he thinks it is one of Roosevelt's whims; and neighbor Jones, back on the next street—he suspects everybody but himself; he thinks Roosevelt dives down in the clear crystal springs of human nature so far as he is concerned, and never once supposing all the true husbands are not thinking exactly the same way.

We expect to have the gratitude of all loving husbands for thus parrying the suspicion, that the apparent originality of the observation suggests, and showing that the strangeness of the truth is only seeming, and that this is the silent lesson of pretty nearly every wedded pair—or ought to be.—Columbus Journal

GEORGE ADE ON TAFT

The famous Indiana humorist was one of the notification committee to wait upon Judge Taft and in the impressions he carried away on the nominee, he says:

"Republicans will find the supporting of Judge Taft an easy and joyful task. He is not anything that a candidate should not be. He is not an atmospheric disturbance. He is not a visionary. He is not a grand stand performer. He is not a Don Quixote, tilting at windmills. He is not an experimentalist. He is not an experiment.

"Probably he will be elected. We are not sure. If the world comes to an end tonight, tomorrow will not be July 31. If all the voters get paralysis of the right hand—or if they become twisted on their dates and forget that Nov. 3 is election day—or if the entire population is stricken with some political malia combining St. Vitus dance with seeing things at night—somebody else might stand a show. Otherwise not. In the case of Judge Taft we may use the language of the extinct race track and say: "Write your own ticket."

And Ade is right. Judge Taft does possess those qualifications that he has so patly stated. He is the kind of a man that appeals to citizens of all classes—nothing of the demagogue but honest, straightforward and amiable. This is at least one time when Ade's joke is no joke.

Political Points

Will Reduce Assessments.
Washington, C. H., O., July 30.—The Republican committee considered a complaint by Joseph G. Gest of the Fayette Auerker, in regard to the assessments charged candidates in the primary. A resolution was passed to pay back to candidates pro rata any surplus of the assessments remaining after the primary expenses are paid on Aug. 16, and that any candidate who had paid his assessment might, on or before Aug. 16, withdraw the sum he had been assessed without in any way affecting his right to be a candidate in the primary.

Governor Continues Ill.
Columbus, O., July 29.—Governor Harris is confined to his home at Eaton with an attack of indigestion, and is under the care of his family physician. It is the belief of Secretary Flickinger that he is not seriously ill. The governor was compelled to leave Cincinnati Monday night and went direct to his Eaton home, being unable to wait for the notification ceremony.

Dick Makes Prediction.
Akron, O., July 30.—Senator Charles Dick, just returned from Washington, gave out a statement in which he predicted the election of Taft. "There is a lack of enthusiasm, however, and there should be some big national question to stir up the people to loyalty." He also predicts the re-election of Governor Harris.

Withdraws From Ticket.
Ravenna, O., July 30.—Judge David L. Rockwell, candidate for lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket, authorized the statement that he would withdraw from the state ticket and would be a candidate for re-nomination for the office of probate judge in this county.

BLACK SNAKE
8 FEET LONG

Chili has come to the front with the biggest snake story of the season. While theaching on the farm of Dr. Voltz, a mile and a half west of Chili Wednesday afternoon, Wm. Ely and Lloyd Everhart, who were helping the doctor, discovered a huge blacksnake, which darted out from under the wheat rick and commenced to hiss and go through some evolutions that indicated war. Ely went after him with a pitch fork and the others joined in the fight. The big reptile was dispatched and measured. It proved to be eight feet and two inches in length. The gentlemen who tell the story are of unquestioned veracity and the people of Chili may endeavor to secure a Carnegie medal for the men who killed the snake.

We Will Pay the Fifteen Cents

We will buy the first package of Mapl-Flake, to let you compare it with foods that you know. It will be good for you and good for us. Let us do it now.

The ideal food for hot weather. Whole wheat, made wholly digestible. Flaked and toasted, and flavored with maple syrup. It gives one the maximum nourishment and produces the minimum heat. Meat acts the other way.

At least one meal a day, in summer, should consist of Mapl-Flake and fruit.

Comfort and good health demand it. None of the fad foods can possibly take its place.

Mapl-Flake is whole wheat, prepared by a process requiring 96 hours.

The wheat is steam-cooked for six hours. Then it is cured for days—a partial digestive process.

Then each separate berry is flaked so thin that the full heat of our ovens can attack every atom.

Then those thin flakes are toasted 30 minutes in a heat of 400 degrees.

Flaked foods can be prepared without all this expense—prepared in one-fourth of the time.

But that long process, and that fierce heat, are essential to perfect digestion. In no other way can the particles be separated so the digestive juices can get to them.

The result is a food that's all food, because it all digests. The shorter process makes a half food—a food that but half digests.

Then we cook our wheat in pure maple syrup, mainly for the children's sake.

There is little use in making the best food if children don't like it best.

So we give it this enticing flavor—the most delicious flavor that a cereal ever had.

The result is, children want it as much as you want them to have it. You can't serve it too often; they never get too much.

One Package Free

One package of Mapl-Flake will make you a convert forever. You will never go back to inferior foods after you once try this.

So we offer to buy the first package ourselves, rather than have you delay.

Please send us this coupon—now before you forget it. We will then send you an order, good at your grocer's for a full-size package free.

Then you'll know. You will need no persuading to get it again.

THE SCRIBES HOW EMPLOYER DIED

Chauffeur Compelled to Watch Sands Slowly Cremated.

ROASTED AS IF ON A SPIT

Stepson of W. K. Vanderbilt Was Driving Machine at Terrific Speed Along French Roadway When Fire Explodes, Hurting Auto Against Tree—Right Leg Remains in Wreckage When Peasants Recover Victim. Dies Soon After, Crying "For Water."

The death of W. K. Vanderbilt, who was killed in an auto crash near here, is given by Charles Pickens, who was with him at the time of the accident. According to his story, Sands was speeding the machine at the rate of 75 miles an hour to make up for time lost at several railroad crossings. As they approached the Chateau grounds the right hand tire blew up, causing the machine to skid and jump from the road into a tree, rebounding to another tree and literally splitting the trunk, and then toppled over backwards, imprisoning Mr. Sands under the forward part.

"Only my feet were caught under the rear platform of the car," said Pickens, "and I lost consciousness for a moment. When I recovered the wreck already was in flames, the motor having exploded. From where I lay I could see that Sands was utterly helpless amid the burning wreckage. His right leg, which was crushed and almost severed, was bleeding profusely. He was roasting as though on a spit in the roaring furnace. Mr. Sands was groaning in agony, but keeping his nerve. I struggled but could not free myself. I turned as far as I could and asked, 'Are you suffering much?' He answered, 'My God! horribly!'

"I again lost consciousness, and when I came to I was lying on the roadside and peasants were tearing apart the hot, twisted iron. In extricating Sands his leg was left in the wreckage, separating from the body as the man was dragged out. The frightful sight will haunt me to my dying day."

The servants, fearing the effect on Mrs. Sands, concealed from her the gravity of the accident and persuaded her not to enter the room where her dying husband had been placed. A doctor summoned from Poissy arrived soon afterwards, but Mr. Sands was beyond mortal aid. Never had he seen, the doctor said, such a pitiful human wreck. The stump of the leg had burned to a crisp, the face and body were black and seared with flames. In addition to terrible internal injuries, Mr. Sands' right arm and shoulder were broken. The physician could only try to alleviate his sufferings with opiates. Several times the man regained consciousness and cried out in agony, his last words being a cry for water.

Heal prostrates the s. In the summer one needs a tonic to offset the customary hot weather Nerve and Stomach depression. You will feel better within 48 hours after beginning to take such a remedy as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Its prompt action in restoring the weakened nerves is surprising. Of course you won't get entirely strong in a few days, but each day you actually feel the improvement. That tired, lifeless spiritless feeling will quickly depart when using the restorative. Dr. Shoop's Restoratives will sharpen a failing appetite; it aids digestion; it will strengthen the weakened Kidneys and Heart by simply rebuilding the worn-out nerves that these organs depend upon. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by C. E. Anderson, Coshocton and C. M. Ferguson, Roscoe.

Last Sad Rites

The funeral of Mrs. Lulu Houser, aged 29, the young wife of Curtis Houser, who died with convulsions at her home two miles west of Franklin Station, was held Sunday morning at 10:30 and she was laid to rest in South Lawn cemetery. The pall bearers were: Misses Lulu Page, Fannie Marshall, Ora Dawson, Cora Stafford, Ida Stafford and Mary Wright.

She had gone to bed on Thursday night in as good health as usual but at 11 o'clock she awoke with a severe pain in her head. At 1:30 she became unconscious and was in convulsions until 8 o'clock Friday morning when God called her for his own.

She was a member of the Virginia Christian church and was a good true Christian woman loved by all who knew her. She was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Glass, of Pleasant Valley. Besides her husband she is survived by her parents, five brothers, Lester and Fred, of Columbus, Grover of Chillicothe, Ernest and Walter of this city, and a host of relatives and friends.

Louis Burroughs is in Newark on business.

BRYAN SAYS TAFT JUGGLES PLATFORM

Will Reply to Speech of Acceptance by Sections.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 30.—Charging that Judge William H. Taft was not satisfied with the work of the Chicago convention which nominated him, and that in consequence he is deeply impressed with the work of the Democratic convention at Denver, William J. Bryan issued a statement in which he expresses the opinion that Judge Taft "fears the uprising which Republican abuses have caused and yet hesitates to adopt his real and substantial reforms." The statement was called forth because of the alleged speech made by Judge Taft in his speech of acceptance at Cincinnati, that Mr. Bryan was a destroyer of business. In regard to the speech Mr. Bryan said:

"I read it and shall discuss it as I deal with the various subjects upon which it treats. For instance, in a speech at Topeka, between now and the first of September, I shall discuss the guaranty of banks and contrast Mr. Taft's position with that of the Democrats. My Labor day speech in Chicago I shall discuss his attitude on the labor question. In other speeches I shall discuss his attitude on the tariff question, the trust question and other questions upon which he has expressed himself. The most noticeable feature of his speech is his attempt to amend the Republican platform by engrating upon it some of the planks of the Democratic platform. He is evidently not satisfied with the work of his convention, and is deeply impressed with the work of the Democratic convention. He is uncharitable, however, in not giving the Democratic party credit for having pointed out the reforms which his own convention repudiated, but which he, in a half-hearted way, indorses. The speech shows that he fears the uprising which Republican abuses have caused and yet hesitates to adopt his real and substantial reforms."

THREE KILLED IN ATTACK ON JAIL

Florida Mob Makes Quick Work of Woman's Assailant.

IS IDENTIFIED BY HIS VICTIM

Taken From Officers, Stripped of Clothing, Suspended From Limb of Tree and Body Riddled With Thousand Bullets—Had Entered Home of White Woman, and Cut Her Throat When She Resisted His Advances. Georgia Also Has Lynching Bee.

Pensacola, Fla., July 30.—Three men were killed and a score are wounded, some probably fatally, in an attempt of a mob to storm the jail and take out Leander A. Shaw, the negro who assaulted Mrs. Lillian Davis.

The negro was carried to a public square, his body stripped of clothing, hanged, and then riddled by a thousand shots.

In a desperate fight with the negro in her home, near this city, Mrs. Davis sustained a gash across the throat, was otherwise beaten and her baby struck in her struggles to resist the attempt of Shaw to assault her.

When accosted by Shaw, Mrs. Davis seized a revolver and ordered the negro from the house. He grasped the weapon and, taking out his knife, drew the blade across her throat, and in escaping from the house struck the baby. Two hours later a deputy sheriff captured Shaw, after a hard fight. Mrs. Davis, although in a critical condition, identified Shaw.

Georgia Has Lynching.
Lyons, Ga., July 30.—Alonzo Williams, a negro, who is alleged to have assaulted Miss Clara Bowen last Friday, near Chocopee, was taken from the Toms county jail by a mob, carried to the woods near by and riddled with bullets.

ATTACK STRIKEBREAKERS

Sympathizers at Elgin Fire Upon Car From Nearby Field.

Chicago, July 30.—Volleys of shots were fired at an Elgin & Belvidere trolley car containing 15 nonunion men while the car was on its way to the Elgin terminal. The bullets came from a field, but the range of the guns was not sufficient to cause fatalities. The shots rattled against the car and shattered the windows. The shots were not returned, as the men imported to take the places of strikers were unarmed. When the car reached Elgin a few stones were thrown, but the police assisted in getting the car into a safe place.

PITTSBURGERS IN OPTIMISTIC MOOD

Outlook in Iron Industry Has More Roseate Hue.

New York, July 30.—The Iron Age Review says: A more cheerful tone pervades the iron markets, even Pittsburgh, for so long the bluest spot in the country, developing some optimism. The volume of business, taking it as a whole, is slightly better, but prices still display irregularity and in some branches are even a little lower. There has been some gain in the rate of operations, since specifications are coming in more freely, but mills are often forced to lie idle for considerable periods to wait for the accumulation of sufficient specifications to justify a brief period of running. In some sections the pig iron markets are easier, while in others they are steady. Pittsburgh reports sales of Bessemer at $5.65 Valley furnace, so that the market, which was nominally at $16 for large quantities and $15.75 for small lots for a considerable period, is now squarely lower. In the east, a Pennsylvania structural mill and bridge shop bought 12,000 tons of basic pig at close to $15 for delivery over four months.

In the central west an Ohio car builder purchased about 5,000 tons of different irons, one-half thereof being malleable Bessemer.

The steel rail trade remains quiet. Inquiries for rails for export are coming in more freely. A Canadian line is in the market for 20,000 tons. The Grand Trunk business has not yet been placed.

Piles are easily and quickly checked with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. To prove it I will send a small trial box as a convincing test. Simply address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. I surely would not send it free unless I was certain that Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment would stand the test. CHARGE RAILROADS WITH VIOLATING LAW

Telegraphers Say They Work More Than Nine Hours.

Chicago, July 30.—A conference is being held here between Commissioner of Labor Neill and representatives of the Order of Railway Telegraphers in reference to alleged violations of the nine-hour law for railroad telegraphers, which went into effect on the first of last March. H. B. Perham of St. Louis, president of the operators' organization, declared the investigation would relate principally to the Rock Island road. J. G. Jennings, superintendent of telegraph of the Rock Island, denied to reporters that his road was violating the nine hour law. One of the points at issue is the interpretation of the law. It is alleged that some roads have in certain instances required night telegraphers to work 15 hours on the ground that this period overlaps two days, and is therefore not a violation of the law.

Paris Has Reform Fever.
Paris, July 30.—Following up his crusade against the appearance of unclothed women in the Paris theaters, Prefect of Police Lepine has given orders that the sale of obscene pictures on the boulevards, which has been for so long a disgrace to the city, be rigorously suppressed.

INDIANS SWEEP DOWN ON DRY GOODS STORES

The dry goods stores have been very busy this week with a throng of devoted mothers buying mysterious lengths of brilliant colored stuffs which are destined to be made into Indian costumes for the adornment of the braves and maddens who are to make up Miss Garver's tribe of Seton Indians at the nautiqua. The first meeting will be held at the totent pole at the fair ground Friday morning at 9 o'clock and at that time arrangements for the daily gatherings will be held.

The tribe numbered one hundred last year and it is hoped to double that this year. It is certain that a dollar could not be better invested for a child than in one of the colored leather tickets which admit the fortunate owner to all the council on the tribes and all the meetings of the Chantiqua as well.

New Pastor

REV. WM. E. BRIDGE

At the Sixth Street
The comic opera entitled "Chums" goes on tonight for the first time at the Sixth Street theatre by the Du and Stock Co. It promises to eclipse everything else that the company has played this far.

Mr. Patter (C. Homer Darand) a young and recently married broker, becoming early tired of the honeymoon, to the chagrin of his spouse, is in receipt of a telegram from his old schoolmate, Jack Biddle (Fred Compton) a lieutenant in the U. S. navy to the effect that his ship having come in from China, he proposes to spend a few days with his dearest friend. Jack has received an intimation of Patterby's marriage.

Mrs. Patterby is exceedingly surprised at her husband's show of interest in the coming visit of his chum inasmuch as she has had cause to complain of his indifference and apathy. With the arrival of Jack, however, a new program is adopted by Hubby and Jack is the unwitting cause of the exposure of Hubby's past life and his real inclinations.

"Jack no sooner makes dark and suggestive allusions to an actress with whom Mr. Patterby has enjoyed "quiet" dinner than Mrs. Patterby decided to impersonate the actress. The ensuing cases of mistaken identity and family tangles and the unwinding of the dilemma into which the misunderstanding brings them is the idea of the unique plot and the armful of comedy that has made the playlet such a strong success.

The play was written by "Sal Atticum" and was first produced in 1899. It is a fitting climax to the Durand Stock company's two months' engagement.
